A Little Misunderstanding. Soon after the convening of a new of congress announcement was made of the approaching marriage of Anson G. McCook, who was then sec-retary of the senate. A subscription was immediately started among the senators for the purchase of a wedding present. Two or three prominent senators volunteered to collect the money. Senator X., one of the richest men in the senate at that time, was one of

"For McCook's wedding present," explained Senator X.

"T'll see you about it tomorrow," answered Blank, with a scowl. "All right," said Senator X. as he walked away, "but don't forget it."

Senator Blank watched him until he was out of hearing, and then, turning to his colleague, remarked with

A Frenchman visiting a fashionable concert garden in St. Petersburg some years ago stopped a passing Russian officer and asked for a light for his cigar, which had gone out. The officer, after a moment's hesitation, handed his pwn cigar to the Frenchman and looked on with a smile of resignation at the latter's frantic efforts. "You are French, I believe?" said the

The following is one of the many stories told about Charles James Fox, the English statesman and orator:
Mr. Hare, envoy to the court of Poland, occupied rooms in the statesman's "diggings." He was a great personal friend and indeed a man of very simllar tastes. They were each the objects of continual inquiry on the part of tradesmen and others. One Fox, looking out of the upper window, descried two men watching the house and waiting. With a genial smile, he shouted, "Pray, gentlemen, will you tell me, are you Fox hunting or Hare hunting today?"

The bailiffs were so tickled that they

Snakes Used by Charmers. Cobras are selected by the so called snake charmers of both Egypt and India for their performances. The Egyptian charmers sometimes pretend to change the serpent into a rod, and, according to Geoffrey St. Hilaire, this appearance can be induced by giving a strong squeeze to the animal's neck, which induces a convulsive rigidity from which the animal soon recovers. It need hardly be said that the snake charmers always carefully extract the fangs of the snakes they use,-Quarter-

Death Superstitions. Death superstitions are rife in the West Indies. To the people there ev-erything out of the ordinary is a "sign." In Cuba a person with a sore or wound of any kind will not look upon a dead person, fearing that the spot will become incurable. The rum used in washing a dead body is, however, regarded as a sure cure for all eye troubles. If the light from a candle or lamp falls on the face of the dead, death will shortly come to him or her who was carrying
